Erica Coray's practice focuses on representing public, private, and non-profit clients at every stage of litigation in both state and federal courts.

With a background in business and law, Erica understands the challenges faced by both public and private entities. Her experience includes a role as Managing Director for an early-stage technology company, as well as the management of complex litigation matters from inception through discovery, briefing and trial preparation.

Prior to working at Pacifica, Erica worked as an associate at law firms in Georgia and Massachusetts representing clients in the higher education, biotechnology, real estate, and manufacturing industries. Erica is also dedicated to pro bono work, representing clients in immigration proceedings, restraining order hearings, and in civil rights matters. She also clerked for the Honorable Denise J. Casper of the U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts. Prior to law school, Erica worked in administrative roles for healthcare nonprofits in Boston, MA.

Erica enjoys playing soccer, watching sports, reading, and exploring the outdoors with her partner and dog.
